- 1. Out of total cost of Plant & Machinery worth ₹ 2558.44 lakhs, we are yet to place an order of approx of ₹ 1214.11 Lakhs which constitutes around 47.46 % of the total cost of plant & machinery.

Out of total cost of Plant & Machinery worth ₹ 2558.44 lakhs, we are yet to place an order for approx ₹ 1214.11 lakhs. The 10 %Contingency provision is made of total cost of plant and machineries. The increase in the cost of plant and machineries on account of non placement of order will not increase the cost of project as the company had made provision of 10% of the total cost of plant and machinery as contingency towards cost.

- 2. Out of total cost of Plant & Machinery worth ₹ 2558.44 lakhs, we have to import plant and machinery worth ₹ 1078.75 Lakhs. We are subject to risk arising from foreign exchange fluctuation.

The exchange rate between the rupee and other currency is variable and may continue to fluctuate in future. Fluctuations in the exchange rate may affect the cost of the project and which may require us to arrange the additional fund for completion of the project. If we are not able to arrange such additional fund in due time which may results in delay in implementation of our project and which may result into adversely affects the profitability and financial results of the company.

3. The company is going to import the machineries under EPCG Scheme. An application for EPCG license is yet to be made.

The Company has considered the cost of imported plant and machineries in the cost of project without import duty cost. The duty is not required to be paid if the Company imports the machinery under EPCG (Export Promotion Capital Goods) Scheme. As per the EPCG license, the Company has to fulfil the obligation of exporting of goods in specific time period. The Company has yet to apply for the EPCG License and if the Company fails to achieve the export obligation in specific time period then company has to pay the duty amount with penalty. The financial position of the Company will affect adversely on account of non fulfilment of the export obligation.

5. Our business requires us to obtain and renew certain registrations, licenses and permits from government and regulatory authorities and the failure to obtain and renew them in a timely manner may adversely affect our business operations.

Our business operations require us to obtain and renew from time to time, certain approvals, licenses, registration and permits, some of which may expire and for which we may have to make an application for obtaining the approval or its renewal. Our Company is required to renew such permits, licenses and approvals. There can be no assurance that the relevant authorities will issue any of such permits or approvals in time or at all. Further, these permits, licenses and approvals are subject to several conditions, and our Company cannot assure that it shall be able to continuously meet such conditions or be able to comply with such conditions to statutory authorities, and this may lead to cancellation, revocation or suspension of relevant permits/licenses/ approvals, which may affect our business adversely.

For more information about the licenses required in our business and the licenses and approvals applied for renewal and approval yet to apply, please refer section "Government and other statutory approvals" appearing on page no 175.

6. Our business of Shrimp Farming is seasonal in nature.

Our business of Shrimp Farming is seasonal in nature. Our Company begins partial harvesting from 100 to 120 days of culture and final harvesting begins after 180 days from culture. Since our major source of revenue is from the sale of final harvesting of shrimps, our revenues are concentrated after the final harvesting of Shrimps. During the slack period, our Company undertakes cleaning, maintenance and revamping of its ponds and other infrastructural facilities due to which our Company is able to produce better quality of prawns by exposing the prawns to a better environment and preventing them from associated diseases. However, seasonal nature of our business may have significant adverse impact on our cash flows and business operations.

7. We operate in an environment sensitive industry. The shrimps we produce may be prone to certain diseases spread in the environment.

Our Company is mainly engaged into farming of shrimps. One of the species of shrimps called “Black Tiger” produced by us is quite vulnerable to diseases especially known as the “White Spot Disease”. According to our management, the introduction of specific pathogen free Vannamei species has improved the prospects of the shrimp industry. Vannamei species was introduced after host of trials and the brood stock is quarantined in Chennai before their release to hatcheries for farming. These being a specific pathogen free species, the percentage of spread of diseases are expected to be low. In addition to this the Coastal Aqua Culture Authority regular checking to ensure the norms of the bio security requirements are strictly followed.

8. Our entire production facility is located in the state of Gujarat. Further we generate our major sales from our operations in certain geographical regions especially Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Maharashtra. Any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.

Our Company is engaged in aquaculture activities only in Gujarat State. Our most of the Customer base is in the state of Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Maharashtra. Thus our current operation is in the very limited parts of the Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Maharashtra State. This limited exposure may affects adversely and create constrains in the path of development. Even changes in the economic and environmental changes may adversely affect our business operations. Thus our limited experience in the state of Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Maharashtra cannot be useful as the environment, customs, business practice, transportation, government laws etc may be different in the different parts of the country and Overseas Markets, particularly as the Company plans to foray into processing of shrimps which shall open avenues to international markets for the Company and further expand its operations.

As we intend to expand our business in the other parts of India as well as International Markets too, we are likely to face severe competition not only from the domestic players but international players too. So we may not be competent enough to expand our business in to areas outside our existing market, which will affect adversely to our business prospects and also affects our financial conditions and operational results.

9. We do not possess any control on the bio security measures employed at different level of operations. Improper measures may lead to risk of development of new infections/diseases.

Bio security can be defined as the set of procedures undertaken to prevent, control and eradicate infectious diseases in organisms. Although we have standard management system and a biosecurity arrangement in place, there may be possibility of lack of biosecurity arrangement at our farms under collaboration agreements as also at farms under satellite farming. This may cause to develop the risk of new diseases among the shrimps. If we are failed in controlling these risks, our business may be significantly and adversely affected. Accordingly, investors should consider our business and prospects in light of the competition, challenges and risk faced by the company and should not consider only our past performance and results as an indication of our future performance.

10. We have not identified any alternate source of raising the funds required for our ‘Objects of the Issue’. Any shortfall in raising / meeting the same could adversely affect our growth plans, operations and financial performance.

Our Company has not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue proceeds can adversely affect our growth plan and profitability. The delay/shortfall in receiving these proceeds could result in delay in implementing the project and may require us to borrow the funds on unfavourable terms, both of which scenarios may affect the business operation and financial performance of the company.

11. Increased in the cost of raw material, labour and other charges, may adversely affect our results of operation and feasibility of our expansion plan.

Shrimp cultivation is one of the major and important activities in our expansion plan; our business would be affected by the cost and quality of raw materials and availability of raw materials and labour too. The prices and supply of raw materials and labour are dependents on various factors which are not in our control and its depends upon various factors including general economic conditions, competition, production levels, transportation costs and import duties. On account of overall inflationary situation the cost of farming could go up significantly and to that extent our profitability may be adversely affected. We are not sure that we shall be able to procure raw materials of good quality at competitive prices and to that extent it will affect our profitability adversely. Over and above this we may not be able to pass on either full or part of any increase in the cost of seeds, feeds or probiotics / medicines etc. To our customers, this will reduce our profit from such expansion and development. Any increase in the costs of our important raw materials may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation.

12. We are planning to set-up a processing unit for shrimps which shall be a new line of business for us.

As a part of expansion/development of project our Company is in the process of setting up of a processing unit for storage and further processing of harvested shrimps. In the initial stage we may face teething problems such as technical problems, shortage of resources, operational mismanagement, etc. in the process of setting up the new processing unit. We may also face competition from the existing process unit. Further we have not identified international customer base and shall also have to develop an international market for the sales of our finished goods (i.e. processed shrimps). All these factors may create hurdles in our speedy growth in the initial period of development and to that extent, affect the profitability of the company.

13. Conflicts of interest may arise due to common business undertaken by our Company and our Group Entities.

As per the object clause of our Group Companies and the purpose for which Our Group Entities are created are authorized to carry out business similar to that of our Company. As a result, conflicts of interests may take place in diverting the business opportunities amongst our Company and our Group Entities. In cases of conflict, our Promoter may favour any other entities of our group in which our Promoter is interested. There can be no assurance that our Promoter or our Group Entities or members of the Promoter Group will not compete with our existing business or any future business that we may undertake. Such conflicting nature of business could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial conditions.

14. Our success depends heavily upon our Promoters and Senior Management for their continuing services, strategic guidance and financial support.

Our success depends heavily upon the continuing services of Pradeep Navik, Shantilal Patel and Rohan Navik, who are the natural person in control of our Company. They currently serve as our Managing Director and Executive Directors and their very rich experience and vision have played a key role in obtaining our current market position. We would depend significantly on our Key Managerial Persons for continuing our operation and executing the proposed expansion plan. If our Managing Director, Executive Directors or any member of the senior management team is unable or unwilling to continue in their present position, we may not be able to replace him easily or at all, and our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

19. We do not own the lands on which our Aquaculture activities are being carried on.

At present, our Company has entered into various collaboration agreements with third parties for Aquaculture cultivation on lands owned by them on certain terms and conditions. The tenure of collaboration agreements are generally of 5 years, subject to renewal after the agreed period of time. Any change in the terms and conditions of the collaborations agreement, any premature termination such collaboration agreement, may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

Further the collaborators are not the owner of these land but the lands are allotted to them by Government subject to certain terms and conditions for a specified period. Any failure on the part of collaborators to fulfil the terms and conditions leading to revocation of land agreement by the Government, any change in the government policies with respect to allotment of the land or inability of the third party to renew land agreement on completion of specified period, might directly impact the scale of operations of our Company and may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

20. Our Company requires sizable amounts of working capital for a continued operation and growth. Our inability to meet with our working capital requirements may have an adverse effect on our growth, development, financial results and its operations.

Aquaculture industry requires intensive working capital for day to day operations. This being the seasonal business our company needs sizable amount of working capital. As the production cycle of marketable Shrimps takes minimum five to six months, we require to deploy working capital during that period. The credit period given to the clients is also high.

21. Our company avails various credit facilities from the Bank and as per sanction terms there are certain restrictive covenants imposed on the issuer company.

As on December 31, 2015, our total secured debts was of Rs. 3896.16 Lacs. We have entered into agreements for term loans and financial facilities with our banker and the covenants in borrowings from bank, among other things require us to obtain permissions in writing in respect of, including, but not limited to effecting any change in the management/Board of the Company, declaration of dividend, capital structure of the Company; undertake any new project, implement any scheme of expansion or acquire fixed assets, enter into borrowing arrangement either secured or unsecured with any other bank/financial institution/Company or otherwise; except which are approved by Bank/lenders, formulate any scheme of amalgamation, acquisition, merger, or reconstruction etc. These covenants may have an adverse effect on the functioning of our Company.

22. We are highly dependent on smooth supply and transportation and timely delivery of our products from our farms to our customers and regular supply of raw materials. Various uncertainties and delays or non delivery of our products will affect our production and sales.

We depend on transportation services for timely delivery of our required raw materials and for delivery of our products to our customers. We rely on third parties to provide such services. Disruptions of transportation services because of weather related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in road infrastructure or other events could impair our procurement of raw materials and our ability to supply our products to our customers which in turn may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

23. Our Company faces competition in its business from other aquaculture players.

Though the aquaculture sector in India is fragmented and unorganised, is highly competitive and our Company faces competition from other aquaculture units. The industry is dominated by few powerful regional players. There are many competitors having better financials and management resources who have captured greater market share than our Company has. Our Company may face competition in the future from established players having significant operations in the other parts of India. This may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

24. Our Company is yet to establish its marketing set up across the country and in international markets.

Our major business operations including marketing are concentrated in the state of Gujarat. The current marketing setup of our Company is very limited to Gujarat only. We will gradually expand our marketing activities in the various other states of our country. With the setting up of the processing unit, our company needs to create very strong distribution networks across India as well as in the international markets. Our Company has to put forward lots of efforts and incur sizable marketing expenses to establish its Domestic as well as International marketing network. The cost of this may affect our Company's expansion plans and profitability.

25. Increasing thrust on R&D/technology up gradation increase the costs.

The aquaculture industry is very sensitive to environment and the healthy growth/catch of the shrimps dependent on favourable environment. After introduction of the new species namely Vannamei, and the up gradation made in shrimp rearing and feeding technologies, the chances of diseases has decreased considerably. However, the aquaculture industry is prone to environmental changes. The Company has to constantly upgrade and adopt the new technologies in order to minimize its dependence on environmental factors.

Our company has in-house research facility and team to constantly test and monitor the aquaculture activities carried on our farms. Our management is very much adoptive to technological up gradation and of the business operations which is evidenced by the installations of Auto-feeder systems to shrimps, PH level testers among others. Our Company put forward continuous and conscious efforts to match the pace of technological advancements with the business requirements. Our company has to incur cost for the same and to that extent it may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

Compliance with any changes in these laws may increase our costs and as such adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Aquaculture farming is subject to various Laws and rules and regulations framed by the various authorities viz. Local Authorities, State Government Authorities and Central Government Authorities. Various Laws and regulation that govern the acquisition and development of Farm, including laws and regulations related to zoning, permitted uses of Land, norms for the open space to be kept, norms for environmental and safety measures and to comply with the various Laws relating to the Labour and their safety too. We have not paid any dividends since incorporation. Our future ability to pay dividends will depend on our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements. There can be no assurance that we will generate sufficient income to cover the operating expenses and pay dividends to the shareholders. Our ability to pay dividends will also depend on our expansion plans. SECTION III - INTRODUCTION

SUMMARY OF OUR INDUSTRY

APPROACH TO AQUACULTURE INDUSTRY

Aquaculture continues to be the fastest growing animal food-producing Industry. Aquaculture, also known as aqua farming, is the farming of aquatic organisms including fish, molluscs, shrimps/prawns and aquatic plants. Farming implies some form of intervention in the rearing process to enhance production, such as regular stocking, feeding, protection from predators, etc. Farming also implies individual or corporate ownership of the stock being cultivated. For statistical purposes, aquatic organisms which are harvested by an individual or corporate body which has owned them throughout their rearing period contribute to aquaculture, while aquatic organisms which are exploitable by public as a common property resource, with or without appropriate licences, are the harvest of fisheries.

World Aquaculture production in 2012 was 90.43 million tonnes, including 66.63 million tonnes of food fish, 23.78 million tonnes of aquatic algae (mostly marine macro algae/ seaweeds), and 22.4 thousand tonnes of non food products (pearls & shells etc.). On global average, aquaculture supplied 9.41 of food fish per person for consumption in 2012. However, production distribution is extremely uneven across the globe and on all continents owing to the imbalance development.

GLOBAL AQUACULTURE INDUSTRY

Global fish production has grown steadily in the last five decades, with food fish supply increasing at an average annual rate of 3.2 percent, outpacing world population growth at 1.6 percent. World per capita apparent fish consumption increased from an average of 9.9 kg in the 1960s to 19.2 kg in 2012. This impressive development has been driven by a combination of population growth, rising incomes and urbanization, and facilitated by the strong expansion of Aquaculture production and more efficient distribution channels. China has been responsible for most of the growth in fish availability, owing to the dramatic expansion in its fish production, particularly from aquaculture. Its per capita apparent fish consumption also increased at an average annual rate of 6.0 percent in the period 1990–2010 to about 35.1 kg in 2010. Annual per capita fish supply in the rest of the world was about 15.4 kg in 2010 (11.4 kg in the 1960s and 13.5 kg in the 1990s). Despite the surge in annual per capita apparent fish consumption in developing regions (from 5.2 kg in 1961 to 17.8 kg in 2010) and low-income food-deficit countries (LIFDCs) (from 4.9 to 10.9 kg), developed regions still have higher levels of consumption, although the gap is narrowing. A sizeable and growing share of fish consumed in developed countries consists of imports, owing to steady demand and declining domestic fishery production. In developing countries, fish consumption tends to be based on locally and seasonally available products, with supply driving the fish chain. However, fuelled by rising domestic income and wealth, consumers in emerging economies are experiencing a diversification of the types of fish available owing to an increase in fishery imports.

World capture fishers and aquaculture production

World food fish aquaculture production expanded at an average annual rate of 6.2 percent in the period 2000–2012 (9.5 percent in 1990–2000) from 32.4 million to 66.6 million tonnes. In the same period, growth was relatively faster in Africa (11.7 percent) and Latin America and the Caribbean (10 percent). Excluding China, production in the rest of Asia grew by 8.2 percent per year (4.8 percent in 1990–2000). The annual growth rate in China, the largest aquaculture producer, averaged 5.5 percent in 2000–2012 (12.7 percent in 1990–2000). In 2012, production in North America was lower than in 2000.

Global aquaculture production attained another all-time high of 90.4 million tonnes (live weight equivalent) in 2012 (US$144.4 billion), including 66.6 million tonnes of food fish and 23.8 million tonnes of aquatic algae, with estimates for 2013 of 70.5 million and 26.1 million tonnes, respectively. China alone produced 43.5 million tonnes of food fish and 13.5 million tonnes of aquatic algae that year. Some developed countries, e.g. the United States of America, have reduced their aquaculture output in recent years, mainly owing to competition from countries with lower production costs. An important change in trade patterns is the increased share of developing countries in fishery trade. Developing economies saw their share rise to 54 percent of total fishery exports by value in 2012, and more than 60 percent by quantity (live weight). Although developed countries continue to dominate world imports of fish and fishery products, their share has decreased. Exports from developing countries have increased significantly in recent decades also thanks to the lowering of tariffs. This trend follows the expanding membership of the World Trade Organization (WTO), the entry into force of bilateral and multilateral trade agreements, and rising disposable incomes in emerging economies. However, several factors continue to constrain developing countries in accessing international markets.

OVERVIEW OF INDIAN ECONOMY

In the coming year, real GDP growth at market prices is estimated to be about 0.6-1.1 percentage points higher vis-a-vis 2014-15. This increase is warranted by four factors. First, the government has undertaken a number of reforms and is planning several more. Cumulative growth impact of these reforms will be positive. A further impetus to growth will be provided by declining oil prices and increasing monetary easing facilitated by ongoing moderation in inflation. Simulating the effects of tax cuts, declining oil prices will add spending power to households, thereby boosting consumption and growth. Oil is also a significant input in production, and declining prices will shore up profit margins and hence balance sheets of the corporate sector. Declining input costs are reflected in the wholesale price index which moved to deflation territory in January 2015.

Further decline in inflation and the resulting monetary easing will provide policy support for growth both by encouraging household spending in interest-sensitive sectors and reducing the debt burden of firms, strengthening their balance sheets. The final favourable impulse will be the monsoon which is forecast to be normal compared to last year. Using the new estimate for 2014-15 as the base, this implies growth at market prices of 8.1- 8.5 percent in 2015-16. The power of growth to lift all boats will depend critically on its employment creation potential.

Reforms

In the months ahead, several reforms will help boost investment and growth. The budget should continue the process of fiscal consolidation, embedding actions in a medium-term framework. India's overall revenue-to-GDP ratio (for the general government) for 2014 is estimated at 19.5 percent by the IMF. This needs to move toward levels in comparator countries—estimated at 25 percent for emerging Asian economies and 29 percent for the emerging market countries in the G-20.

Since assuming office in May 2014, the new government has undertaken a number of new reform measures whose cumulative impact could be substantial.

SUMMARY OF OUR BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Our Company was incorporated as "Zeal Aqua Private Limited" at Surat under the provision of the Companies Act, 1956 vide certificate of incorporation dated March 6, 2009 issued by the Assistant Registrar of Companies, Gujarat, Dadra and Nagar Haveli. Consequent upon the conversion of our Company to public limited company, the name of our Company was changed to "Zeal Aqua Limited" and fresh certificate of incorporation dated March 31, 2015 was issued by the Assistant Registrar of Companies, Ahmedabad. The Corporate Identification Number of our Company is U05004GJ2009PLC056270.

Our Promoters basically lead the way of aquaculture in Surat around 20 years ago and have individually started cultivation of shrimp with 2 ponds. After continues efforts in various innovation in the field of aquaculture, shrimp farming, satellite farming etc decided to give the business a corporate shape and to accomplish the thought, Our Promoters who were individually engaged in culturing shrimps joined hands in 2009 and incorporated our company "Zeal Aqua Private Limited" to make the business scalable and reap the benefits of synergy. In addition, the introduction of schemes of Government to allot coastal lands for aquaculture purposes to promote this industry and generate a source of revenue for farmers motivated our Promoters to have a vision to develop an advanced, sustained and fully integrated aquaculture system in Surat and also across India.

At present, our Company have approx 160 ponds spread over village Mor, Delasa, Mandorai, Cutpore, Nesh, Dandi, Olpad, Orna, Bhagwa, Udhana, etc admeasuring area of approx 200 hectares of land wherein the land on which ponds are constructed for cultivation of shrimp by our Company is in accordance with collaboration agreements with various parities. In the year 2011, Mr. Rohan Navik, son of Mr. Pradeep Navik, promoter of the our Company, joined the company as Whole time Director and since then he is also looking after the daily business affairs of the company.

In addition to shrimp farming, our Company is also engaged in satellite farming whereby our Company supplies inputs i.e shrimp feeds, shrimp seeds, probiotics and other aquaculture related products etc on credit to small farmers and buys shrimps from these farmers. Our Company has approx 1050 satellite farms. We deploy our specific quality control measures and the farmers under satellite farming are required to adhere to our farming standards. The satellite farming enables companies to scale up and multiply its production without putting up physical infrastructure on its own. This flexible model of shrimp production helps our Company to efficiently manage growing demand of shrimps.

After establishing the strong foothold in the shrimp farming and satellite farming activities, as a part of forward integration our Company is in process of setting up shrimp processing unit for their shrimp including cold storage and primarily to manufacture Individually quick frozen (IQF) shrimp products for which our company had already purchased land admeasuring area of 35076 sq meters and 14569 sq meter land on lease basis at Village Orma, Olpad, Surat. With the help of this proposed processing unit, Our company will be in a position to directly sell the finished product (consumable shrimp) to the export market. Thus, the proposed project is a logical forward integration for our Company and the same would help the Company to expand their global foot-prints and take their business ahead in the right direction.

Our object of enhancing productivity, quality and minimize environmental degradation our Company has taken various measures such as introduction of PE Line Ponds, use of qualitative feeds, bio-security measures such as fencing and water management among others.

While shrimp health and harvest quality set the overall objectives, a number of different themes factor prominently in our Company's research and development (R&D) programs, each playing an important role in the development of the aquaculture business. Shrimp health is one of the keys to shrimp growth and survival, and is therefore an integral part of all R&D programs. Another very important theme in the R&D programs is harvest quality of shrimp in terms of flesh structure, taste, and nutritional value in human consumption.

Our Company is committed to continuously innovating feed development strategies, to better cater to different species' nutritional needs in the different stages of life cycle. Special research programs focus on the development of feed for new species, while others evaluate the physical quality of feed in terms of size, shape, crumble, dust, water absorption etc.

APPROACH TO AQUACULTURE INDUSTRY

Aquaculture continues to be the fastest growing animal food-producing Industry Aquaculture also known as aqua farming is the farming of aquatic organisms including fish, molluscs, shrimps/prawns and aquatic plants. Farming implies some form of intervention in the rearing process to enhance production, such as regular stocking, feeding, protection from predators, etc. Farming also implies individual or corporate ownership of the stock being cultivated. For statistical purposes, aquatic organisms which are harvested by an individual or corporate body which has owned them throughout their rearing period contribute to aquaculture while aquatic organisms which are exploitable by public as a common property resource, with or without appropriate licences, are the harvest of fisheries

World Aquaculture production in 2012 was 90.43 million tonnes including 66.63 million tonnes of food fish , 23.78 million tonnes of aquatic algae (mostly marine macro algae/ seaweeds), and 22.4 thousand tonnes of non food products (pearls & shells etc.). On global average, aquaculture supplied 9.41 of food fish per person for consumption in 2012. However, production distribution is extremely uneven across the globe and on all continents owing to the imbalance development.

GLOBAL AQUACULTURE INDUSTRY

Global fish production has grown steadily in the last five decades, with food fish supply increasing at an average annual rate of 3.2 percent, outpacing world population growth at 1.6 percent. World per capita apparent fish consumption increased from an average of 9.9 kg in the 1960s to 19.2 kg in 2012. This impressive development has been driven by a combination of population growth, rising incomes and urbanization, and facilitated by the strong expansion of Aquaculture production and more efficient distribution channels. China has been responsible for most of the growth in fish availability, owing to the dramatic expansion in its fish production, particularly from aquaculture. Its per capita apparent fish consumption also increased an average annual rate of 6.0 percent in the period 1990–2010 to about 35.1 kg in 2010. Annual per capita fish supply in the rest of the world was about 15.4 kg in 2010 (11.4 kg in the 1960s and 13.5 kg in the 1990s). Despite the surge in annual per capita apparent fish consumption in developing regions (from 5.2 kg in 1961 to 17.8 kg in 2010) and low-income food-deficit countries (LIFDCs) (from 4.9 to 10.9 kg), developed regions still have higher levels of consumption, although the gap is narrowing. A sizeable and growing share of fish consumed in developed countries consists of imports, owing to steady demand and declining domestic fishery production. In developing countries, fish consumption tends to be based on locally and seasonally available products, with supply driving the fish chain. However, fuelled by rising domestic income and wealth, consumers in emerging economies are experiencing a diversification of the types of fish available owing to an increase in fishery imports.

World capture fishers and aquaculture production

World food fish aquaculture production expanded at an average annual rate of 6.2 percent in the period 2000–2012 (9.5 percent in 1990–2000) from 32.4 million to 66.6 million tonnes. In the same period, growth was relatively faster in Africa (11.7 percent) and Latin America and the Caribbean (10 percent). Excluding China, production in the rest of Asia grew by 8.2 percent per year (4.8 percent in 1990–2000). The annual growth rate in China, the largest aquaculture producer, averaged 5.5 percent in 2000–2012 (12.7 percent in 1990–2000). In 2012, production in North America was lower than in 2000.

Global aquaculture production attained another all-time high of 90.4 million tonnes (live weight equivalent) in 2012 (US$144.4 billion), including 66.6 million tonnes of food fish and 23.8 million tonnes of aquatic algae, with estimates for 2013 of 70.5 million and 26.1 million tonnes, respectively. China alone produced 43.5 million tonnes of food fish and 13.5 million tonnes of aquatic algae that year. Some developed countries, e.g. the United States of America, have reduced their aquaculture output in recent years, mainly owing to competition from countries with lower production costs. An important change in trade patterns is the increased share of developing countries in fishery trade. Developing economies saw their share rise to 54 percent of total fishery exports by value in 2012, and more than 60 percent by quantity (live weight). Although developed countries continue to dominate world imports of fish and fishery products, their share has decreased. Exports from developing countries have increased significantly in recent decades also thanks to the lowering of tariffs. This trend follows the expanding membership of the World Trade Organization (WTO), the entry into force of bilateral and multilateral trade agreements, and rising disposable incomes in emerging economies. However, several factors continue to constrain developing countries in accessing international markets.

OVERVIEW OF INDIAN ECONOMY

In the coming year, real GDP growth at market prices is estimated to be about 0.6-1.1 percentage points higher vis-a-vis 2014-15. This increase is warranted by four factors. First, the government has undertaken a number of reforms and is planning several more. Cumulative growth impact of these reforms will be positive. A further impetus to growth will be provided by declining oil prices and increasing monetary easing facilitated by ongoing moderation in inflation. Simulating the effects of tax cuts, declining oil prices will add spending power to households, thereby boosting consumption and growth. Oil is also a significant input in production, and declining prices will shore up profit margins and hence balance sheets of the corporate sector. Declining input costs are reflected in the wholesale price index which moved to deflation territory in January 2015.

Further decline in inflation and the resulting monetary easing will provide policy support for growth both by encouraging household spending in interest-sensitive sectors and reducing the debt burden of firms, strengthening their balance sheets. The final favourable impulse will be the monsoon which is forecast to be normal compared to last year. Using the new estimate for 2014-15 as the base, this implies growth at market prices of 8.1- 8.5 percent in 2015-16. The power of growth to lift all boats will depend critically on its employment creation potential.

Reforms

In the months ahead, several reforms will help boost investment and growth. The budget should continue the process of fiscal consolidation, embedding actions in a medium-term framework. India's overall revenue-to-GDP ratio (for the general government) for 2014 is estimated at 19.5 percent by the IMF. This needs to move toward levels in comparator countries—estimated at 25 percent for emerging Asian economies and 29 percent for the emerging market countries in the G-20. Since assuming office in May 2014, the new government has undertaken a number of new reform measures whose cumulative impact could be substantial.

About Indian Fisheries

Indian fisheries and aquaculture is an important sector of food production, providing nutritional security to the food basket, contributing to the agricultural exports and engaging about fourteen million people in different activities. With diverse resources ranging from deep seas to lakes in the mountains and more than 10% of the global biodiversity in terms of fish and shellfish species, the country has shown continuous and sustained increments in fish production since independence. Constituting about 6.3% of the global fish production, the sector contributes to 1.1% of the GDP and 5.15% of the agricultural GDP. The total fish production of 10.07 million metric tons presently has nearly 65% contribution from the inland sector and nearly the same from culture fisheries. Paradigm shifts in terms of increasing contributions from inland sector and further from aquaculture are significations over the years. With high growth rates, the different facets of marine fisheries, coastal aquaculture, inland fisheries, freshwater aquaculture, coldwater fisheries to food, health, economy, exports, employment and tourism of the country.

The country has 429 Fish Farmers Development Agencies (FFDAs) and 39 Brackish water Fish Farms Development Agencies (BFDAs) for promoting freshwater and coastal aquaculture. The annual carp seed production is to the tune of 25 billion and that of shrimp about 12 billion, with increasing diversification in the recent past. Along with food fish culture, ornamental fish culture and high value fish farming are gaining importance in the recent past. With over 2.4 lakh fishing crafts operating in the coast, six major fishing harbors, 62 minor fishing harbors and 1511 landing centers are functioning to cater to the needs of over 3.9 million fisher folk.

Fish and fish products have presently emerged as the largest group in agricultural exports of India, with 10.51 lakh tones in terms of quantity and Rs. 33,442 crores in value. This accounts for around 10% of the total exports of the country and nearly 20% of the agricultural exports. More than 50 different types of fish and shellfish products are exported to 75 countries around the world.

INDIAN AQUACULTURE INDUSTRY

Aquaculture in India is a very important economic activity and a flourishing sector with varied resources and potentials. Only after the Indian Independence, has fisheries together with agriculture been recognized as an important sector. The vibrancy of the sector can be visualized by the 11-fold increase that India achieved in fish production in just six decades, i.e. from 0.75 million tonnes in 1950-51 to 9.6 million tonnes during 2012-13. This resulted in an unparalleled average annual growth rate of over 4.5 percent over the years which have placed the country on the forefront of global fish production, only after China.

As the second largest country in aquaculture production, the share of inland fisheries and aquaculture has gone up from 46 percent in the 1980s to over 85 percent in recent years in total fish production. Freshwater aquaculture showed an overwhelming ten-fold growth from 0.37 million tonnes in 1980 to 4.03 million tonnes in 2010; with a mean annual growth rate of over 6 percent. Freshwater aquaculture contributes to over 95 percent of the total aquaculture production. The Freshwater aquaculture comprises of the culture of carp fishes, culture of catfishes (air breathing and non-air breathing), culture of freshwater prawns, culture of pangasius, and culture of tilapia.

In addition, in brackish water sector, the aquaculture includes culture of shrimp varieties mainly, the native giant tiger prawn (Penaeus monodon) and exotic white leg shrimp (Penaeus vannamei). Thus, the production of carp in freshwater and shrimps in brackish water form the bulk of major areas of aquaculture activity. The three Indian major carps, namely cattle (Cattle carp), rohu (Labeo rohita) and mrigal (Cirrhinus mrigala) contribute the bulk of production to the extent of 70 to 75 percent of the total fresh water fish production, followed by silver carp, grass carp, common carp, catfishes forming a second important group contributing the balance of 25 to 30 percent. It is estimated that only about 40 percent of the available area of 2.36 million hectares of ponds and tanks has been put to use and an immense scope for expansion of area exists under freshwater aquaculture. The national mean production levels from still-water ponds has gone up from about 600 kg/hectare/year in 1974 to over 2 900 kg/hectare/annum at present and several farmers are even demonstrating higher production levels of 8–12 tonnes/hectare/year. The technologies of induced carp breeding and poly culture in static ponds and tanks virtually revolutionized the freshwater aquaculture sector and turned the sector into a fast growing commercial sector. The developmental support provided by the Indian Government through a network of Fish Farmers' Development Agencies and Brackish water Fish Farmers' Development Agencies and the research and development programmes of the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) have been the principal vehicles for this revolutionary development. In addition, additional support was also provided by various state governments, host of organizations and agencies like the Marine Products Export Development Authority, financial institutions, etc.

BLUE REVOLUTION

There is a huge untapped potential in fisheries and aquaculture, which can contribute considerably to improve the livelihoods as also women empowerment. The future development of aquaculture depends on adoption of new and innovative production technologies, management and utilization of less utilized water resources and proper market tie-ups. Reservoir fisheries offers a major opportunity to enhance fish production in the country. In the marine sector, while the coastal fisheries have been fully exploited, deep-sea fisheries resources are yet to be harnessed. Diversification and high value produce will add new dimensions to this sector. Proper post-harvest handling, reduction of losses and hygienic primary processing are important to realize full potentials of the sector. Simultaneously, effective marketing arrangements are to be made to ensure adequate returns to the fishers and the farmers and also make available of good quality fish at affordable prices to the consumers. With these in view, an end-to-end approach from ensuring proper input availability to efficient marketing is contemplated, for a 'win-win' situation for both the fish producer and the consumer. Set in this background, the National Fisheries Development Board (NFDB) would seek to realize the full potentials of Indian fisheries through coordination of different agencies and public-private partnerships.

The satellite farming enables companies to scale up and multiply its production without putting up physical infrastructure on its own. This flexible model of shrimp production helps our Company to efficiently manage growing demand of shrimps.

After establishing the strong foothold in the shrimp farming and satellite farming activities, as a part of forward integration our Company is in process of setting up shrimp processing unit for their shrimp including cold storage and primarily to manufacture Individually quick frozen (IQF) shrimp products for which our company had already purchased land admeasuring area of 35076 sq meters and 14569 sq meter land on lease basis at Village Orma, Olpad, Surat. With the help of this proposed processing unit, Our company will be in a position to directly sell the finished product (consumable shrimp) to the export market. Thus, the proposed project is a logical forward integration for our Company and the same would help the Company to expand their global foot-prints and take the business ahead in the right direction. In order to achieve our object of enhancing productivity, quality and minimize environmental degradation our Company has taken various measures such as introduction of PE Line Ponds, use of qualitative feeds, bio-security measures such as fencing and water management among others.

OUR BUSINESS PROCESS

Process in brief:

Our Company has entered into collaboration with many third parties for usage of their land. At present we have agreements entitling us to use around 102 hectares of land. In addition to these collaborations, we have also made an application for allotment of land to the Government of Gujarat. Our business process may be broadly divided into the following steps:

- Pond preparation
- Bio security measures
- Water filling and management
- Shrimp stocking & breeding
- Harvesting
- Sale

Pond Preparation

Our Company prepares two types of Ponds i.e. either Earthen Ponds or PE lined Ponds. Pond preparation starts with the cleaning and removal of top soil on the land. Thereafter, the lands are dried and ploughed. After ploughing of land, land is leveled. Post leveling, the PE lining activity is undertaken in case a PE lined pond has to be prepared. Ponds are then, fertilized.

Once the ponds are prepared, the Company install bio-security measures at the sites.

Bio-security measures

Some of the bio-security measures applied by our Company are:

Water filling and water management

Once bio-security measures are installed at the site, the ponds are filled with water. Our Company pumps in water from the local creeks to the reservoirs situated at the sites. Before filling the water, water filtration process is carried out. Post pond filling, we set up aerators. These aerator helps in maintaining the oxygen level in the water. Water is then cheked for PH levels, salinity and chlorination levels. A proper water treatment programme is undertaken by our Company. Water treatment is followed by water culture.

Shrimp stocking and breeding

Our Company produces two kinds of shrimps i.e. Tiger shrimps (P. monodon) and White shrimps (L. Vannamei).

We procure seeds from hatcheries. These seeds are stocked using Hapa boats. Usual stocking size is Post larve (PL) 8-9 for L. Vannamei and PL 20 for P. monodon. Thereafter water quality is monitored. Water quality monitoring is an essential part in this process. Shrimp being a live product, any changes in desired PH levels, chlorination levels, etc. may hamper the growth of the shrimps. We make constant efforts to technologically upgrade this process. We have installed aerators, auto PH level checkers, etc. for monitoring the water quality. Also we have supervisors and technicians at various sites who oversee the process on regular basis. The shrimps are then feeded with feeds. At different levels of growth of shrimps, different kinds of feeds are provided to the shrimps. To prevent the shrimps from undue diseases, probiotics are also used in the process.

Harvesting

Post 120 days of stocking with shrimp seeds, the shrimps can be partially harvested. Before harvesting of seeds, the same is sample tested by MPEDA. Post 160-180 days, the shrimps are fully harvested. One of the important quality of our shrimps, is that they are free from antibiotics. After the shrimps are fully harvested, sludge disposal is carried out.

Sale of Shrimps

The shrimps are weighed and sold to the processing houses.

Marketing and Distribution Arrangement

Our success lies in the strength of our relationship with our customers who have been associated with our Company for a long period. Our promoters, Mr. Shantilal Patel and Mr. Pradeep Navik, through their vast experience and good relations with clients owing to timely and quality delivery of products plays an instrumental role in creating and expanding a work platform for our Company.

Consequent upon the conversion of our Company to public limited company, the name of our Company was changed to "Zeal Aqua Limited" and fresh certificate of incorporation dated March 31, 2015 was issued by the Assistant Registrar of Companies, Ahmedabad. The Corporate Identification Number of our Company is U05004GJ2009PLC056270.

Our Promoters basically lead the way of aquaculture in Surat around 20 years ago and have individually started cultivation of shrimp with 2 ponds. After continues efforts in various innovation in the field of aquaculture, shrimp farming, satellite farming etc decided to give the business a corporate shape and to accomplish the thought, Our Promoters who were individually engaged in culturing shrimps joined hands in 2009 and incorporated our company "Zeal Aqua Private Limited" to make the business scalable and reap the benefits of synergy. In addition, the introduction of schemes of Government to allot coastal lands for aquaculture purposes to promote this industry and generate a source of revenue for farmers motivated our Promoters to have a vision to develop an advanced, sustained and fully integrated aquaculture system in Surat and also across India.

At present, our Company have approx 160 ponds spread over village Mor, Delasa, Mandorai, Katpore, Nesh, Dandi, Olpad, Orma, Bhagwa, Kantyajal, etc admeasuring area of approx 200 hectares of land wherein the land on which ponds are constructed for cultivation of shrimp by our Company is in accordance with collaboration agreements with various parities. In the year 2011, Mr. Rohan Navik, son of Mr. Pradeep Navik, promoter of our Company, joined the company as Whole time Director and since then he is also looking after the daily business affairs of the company.

In addition to shrimp farming, our Company is also engaged in satellite farming whereby our Company supplies inputs i.e shrimp feeds, shrimp seeds, probiotics and other aquaculture related products etc on credit to small farmers and buys shrimps from these farmers. Our Company has approx 1050 satellite farms. We deploy our specific quality control measures and the farmers under satellite farming are required to adhere to our farming standards. The satellite farming enables companies to scale up and multiply its production without putting up physical infrastructure on its own. This flexible model of shrimp production helps our Company to efficiently manage growing demand of shrimps.

After establishing the strong foothold in the shrimp farming and satellite farming activities, as a part of forward integration our Company is in process of setting up shrimp processing unit for their shrimp including cold storage and primarily to manufacture Individually quick frozen (IQF) shrimp products for which our company had already purchased land admeasuring area of 35076 sq meters and 14569 sq meter land on lease basis at Village Orma, Olpad, Surat. With the help of this proposed processing unit, Our company will be in a position to directly sell the finished product (consumable shrimp) to the export market. Thus, the proposed project is a logical forward integration for our Company and the same would help the Company to expand their global foot-prints and take their business ahead in the right direction.

Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post-tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date.

Taxes on income

'Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Balance Sheet when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company.

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets in respect of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are recognised only if there is virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such assets. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of other items only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date for their reliability.

Current and deferred tax relating to items directly recognised in equity is recognised in equity and not in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes.

Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognized as an expense at the undiscounted amount in the Profit and Loss account of the year in which the related service is rendered. Post-employment and other long term employee benefits are recognized as an expense in the Profit and Loss account for the year in which the employee has rendered services. The expense is recognized at the present value of the amount payable determined using actuarial valuation techniques. Actuarial gains and losses in respect of post-employment and other long term benefits are charged to the Profit and Loss account.

Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are recorded on the basis of exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transactions.
